

Keeping Micro-Businesses and Solopreneurs Relevant and Resilient

Roxanne D. Button, AIA

Roxanne has practiced architecture, interior design, and sustainability consulting in the U.S. & Canada for over 30 years. Her work includes interior- & sustainability-focused projects of different types and complexities including hospitality, healthcare, & higher education. With an approach founded in collaboration and a commitment to integrated project design, she has worked with A/E firms as a WBE consultant on architectural, specifications, and sustainability consulting projects. After 12 years of solo practice, she made the transition from small firm owner to office leader for Ashley McGraw Architects, opening their newest office in Buffalo NY. As AIA Buffalo/WNY President for 2025, one of Roxanne's priorities was to start a local AIA Small Firm Exchange group and advocate for sole practitioners and small firm owners.
